LOOKING AHEAD: FALL, SUMMER & ACADEMIC YEAR 2021
The OSA certainly shares in your disappointment regarding the recent extension of the GW-affiliated travel suspension resulting in the cancellation of Study Abroad this upcoming Spring. However, we continue to look ahead with optimism and excitement for possibilities later in 2021. The Application Cycle for Fall, Summer, and Academic Year 2021 will open in mid-December. There is still much to look forward to and plan for! Start researching programs now!

GLOBAL BACHELOR’S PROGRAM 2021 APPS OPENING NOVEMBER 15

Are you a First Year student looking to make study abroad a central part of your undergraduate degree? Then the Global Bachelor’s Program is the program for you. You will have the opportunity to integrate three international experiences into your GW education and welcome diverse perspectives into your degree plan. Applications for the 2021 cohort for both the Belfast and Shanghai tracks open November 15th in GW Passport. Don't miss out!

VIRTUAL STUDY ABROAD ADVISING CONTINUES

Even with virtual instruction continuing, our advising team continues to be available for student meetings and appointments. We welcome you to meet with us to discuss your future semester plans and how to make study abroad work for you! Interested in having an advisor meet with your student organization, club or group? Set up a virtual meeting with your study abroad advisor or one of our peer advisors, or visit our advisors virtual offices for resources and information!

STUDY ABROAD PEER ADVISORS (SAPAs)

In addition to our full-time advising team, our office also offers peer-to-peer advising. This is a great way to learn what the study abroad experience is really like from the student perspective! Each year, we have a new group of high-achieving and outgoing study abroad alumni volunteers who are trained to help newly interested students with the study abroad process. Get to know what studying abroad is really like from students who have gone through the process themselves!

You can schedule virtual appointments on our website to meet with a SAPA and discuss the study abroad experience and steps to study abroad!

FRANCE ON CAMPUS AWARDS

The France on Campus Awards are aimed at American student organizations eager to produce creative France-related projects on their campus while introducing new audiences to French culture (not limited to student organizations with pre-existing ties to France). Projects can explore all fields, including (but not limited to) French language, visual arts, design, cinema, music, performance, food, journalism, publishing, history, science, or technology. In light of the COVID-19 pandemic and increase in remote learning, online initiatives are strongly encouraged. The Cultural Services of the French Embassy will select three winners, who will receive the following grants to implement their projects: 1st place winner $2,000; 2nd place winner $1,000; 3rd place winner $500. In addition, winners will be offered annual subscriptions to TV5 Monde, the premier source for French TV programming in the United States.

GW students last won this contest in the 2015-2016 academic year for their project on The Franco-US Wine Connection: How Data Tells the Story of Integration.

The call for projects is open until November 4, 2020.

CRITICAL LANGUAGE SCHOLARSHIP (CLS) DEADLINE APPROACHING

CLS is a summer study abroad opportunity for American college and university students to learn languages essential to America’s engagement with the world. This program is independent of GW Study Abroad opportunities but is an excellent opportunity for students to pursue cultural and language exchange.

Applications are open now for Summer 2021 and are due by November 17 at 8pm EST.
PROGRAM

GW is pleased to offer a virtual or online exchange program for incoming international exchanges students. This program is targeted at students who were nominated by their foreign institution to study at GW in the Spring of 2021. We understand that some students may not be able to physically join us in DC, so we are looking forward to offering a virtual option. Please contact the Exchange Team (exchange@gwu.edu) for more information.

TIP FOR LEVERAGING YOUR EXPERIENCE ABROAD

For all our returnee students, you may wondering how you are going to communicate and translate your experience abroad for the purpose of upcoming job applications or interviews. Here is one tip for leveraging your experience to put your best foot forward in your career path:

Think about the jobs you’re interested in and what companies you’d like to potentially work for. Use this time to do some research into the skills and qualities they value or seek in employees. Make a list of those skills. In a separate column, think about stories from your time abroad. Think things like - when you overcame a challenge, were confronted with something unfamiliar and new, felt out of your comfort zone, etc. Consider how you reacted to or handled those experiences and how that can relate to the skills you’ve listed in your first column. Go through and match each required/desired skill with your own personal story. Refine these stories for elevator pitches and interview responses to show a real world example of your skills in practice!

GW PARIS - FALL BUSINESS PROGRAM

"Being independent is a basic trait that I could not attest to being until I studied abroad. I am of Ethiopian origin and I have lived in Washington DC my whole life. Outside of North America, the only place I have visited is Ethiopia. Growing up, I was never required to be independent. My primary responsibility was to do well in school. When it came time to pick a college, my parents were adamant about me staying close to home. It didn’t come as a surprise that I ended up staying in DC for college. When I brought up the opportunity of studying abroad, I was initially met with disapproval, but I was able to convince my parents. I was away from my family for the first time in my life. It turned out to be one of the best decisions of my life. I experienced new cultures, met new people, and learned to speak a foreign language. It gave me the opportunity for self-growth and the chance to make my own mistakes and learn from them. Most importantly, I learned to be independent and self-reliant. Merci Paris!
